

Japanese Gender Equality Policies from the Viewpoint of Young Women

The Government of Japan upholds its policy efforts on gender equality, under slogans such as “a society in which women shine” and “Womenomics”; at the same time, Japan is ranked 114th out of 144 in gender equality rankings by World Economic Forum. This event will discuss the achievements and challenges of gender equality policies in Japan, in regards to how they actually influence women on the ground, especially from the perspective of young women.
